

Rethinking Practices to Increase Retention and Completion

What are the schools with high student success rates doing to increase retention and completion?

Join guest host Terry O'Banion, President Emeritus, League for Innovation and Chair of the Graduate Faculty, National American University, while he discusses and explores some of the most successful programs in the country. The program will deliver concepts and practices that can be replicated at your college. Featuring programs from West Kentucky, San Jacinto College, Anne Arundel, and The Community College of Baltimore County.

Moderator

Terry O'Banion
President Emeritus
League for Innovation

Featured Colleges

Campus Information

Showing 24/7 online at www.starlinktraining.org
September 9 - September 23, 2013

