

Ahead of the Class: What to Know and Do on The First Day

This program will cover tried-and-true ideas, strategies, activities, and insights that have proved invaluable to your peer faculty members in getting their students off to positive beginnings that pay learning dividends throughout the course. You can sort through their pedagogical treasures and decide which ones are best for you and your students.

Sept. 17 - Oct. 1, 2012
Online 24/7
www.starlinktraining.org

Featuring:

Dr. Ken Bain, the author of the ground-breaking What the Best College Teachers Do, and the brand new companion book What the Best College Students Do.

Dr. Bain, Provost of District of Columbia University in Washington, DC. has written a treasure trove of insight and inspiration for first-year teachers and seasoned educators alike.

Campus Information: